

Shuhei Shiozawa

Department of Economics

Professor

Email: shiozawa@tiu.ac.jp

■ Education

1986 Ph.D. – Department of Economics, The University of Minnesota

1980 M.A. – Department of Economics, Keio University

1978 B.A. – Department of Economics, Keio University

■ Teaching and Research Interests

Welfare Economics, Economics of Philanthropy

■ Academic Appointments

2019– Professor, Tokyo International University

2001–2003 Counselor for International Economic Affairs, Cabinet Office, Government of Japan

1994–2019 Professor, Keio University

1991–1992 Visiting Researcher, The National Foundation of Political Science, Paris, France

1987–1994 Associate Professor, Keio University

■ Fellowships & Grants

■ Selected Publications/Conference Papers

“Pareto Optimality, Core and Equilibria in a Cooperative Super Game without Side Payments”, Keio Economic Studies, Vol. XXIV, No. 1, pp25-41, 1987.

“Philanthropy as a Corporate Strategy” Japanese Economic Review, Vol.46, No.4, pp367-382, 1995.

“Philanthropy, NPO, public sector and social benefit”, Nonprofit Review.
Vol.12, No.1, pp1-8, 2012

“Enlightened self-interest and philanthropic activities by private firms”, Scottish Journal of Arts, Social Sciences and Scientific Studies, Vol.11. No.1, pp 75-86, 2013

“A microeconomic formulation of social enterprises” Scottish Journal of Arts, Social Sciences and Scientific Studies, Vol.18. No.1, pp12-23, 2014

“A microeconomic formulation of financial support for cultural and artistic activities”
Scottish Journal of Arts, Social Sciences and Scientific Studies, Vol.26. No.2, pp149-167, 2015